Benefits of using CICD

Is it really worth it?

Limitations with the traditional approach

-   Deploy in long scheduled dates (weekly, bi-weekly)

-   Manual process to build, test and deploy.

-   Long time to deliver value to market.

-   Long preparation time for releases.

CICD Benefits

- Deploy several times a day (whether it's a bug fix or feature development).

- Least operational overhead and less employees required.

- High quality code with continuous monitoring for the application and systems.

- Time to value instead of time to market.

- Serve more customers and be able to scale better.
